OneSource Relocation Names Michael Nimer as Chief Operating Officer

Software Delivers Informative, Objective Sales Solutions

MARIETTA, GEORGIA – September 3, 2008 – OneSource Relocation, a U.S. domestic and international employee relocation management and consulting services company, has named Michael Nimer as its new Chief Operating Officer. Nimer will join OneSource’s executive team, overseeing its service delivery and business development components.

Nimer, a twenty-seven year veteran of the relocation industry, began his career as a counselor with Prudential Relocation and progressed through its management in operations, account management and business development. He was part of Prudential Relocation’s Executive Leadership Team, most recently serving as Senior Vice President, Global Relationship Management.

“Michael has the proven ability to guide OneSource’s growth by providing effective solutions for the various relocation management issues clients face today,” said Eve Seib, President of OneSource. “He is a seasoned and highly regarded member of the relocation services profession. Michael understands our industry and the ever changing mobility needs of our corporate clients and their relocating employees. Furthermore, he brings passion, innovation and adept leadership skills to our already exceptional team.”

“I am very excited to join such a great group of professionals. I look forward to helping them build upon their outstanding reputation for top-tier customer service,” Nimer said. “As an independent relocation company, OneSource is able to provide complete objectivity when managing moves. In addition, OneSource Relocation operates under a true, single point of contact structure and utilizes the most up-to-date technology, providing real time, web-based access for clients and employees. This puts us in a unique position to deliver personalized, cost-effective relocation services.”
